Seeks to Form School Class for Trainable Children

GOAL: There is a class of retarded children in the Harrisburg city schools system for educable children, but no state funds are available to set up classes for those children who are trainable but not educable.

Those termed as educable can be taught reading, writing and arithmetic, and those in the trainable category cannot, but can be taught how to take care of themselves, taught handicraft and such as that. Mrs. Aaron Dudley of 1319 West Barnett street a few weeks ago attended a conference on retarded children at Peoria, and there she learned that the successful way to get classes started for retarded children who are trainable is to organize a parents' group. This she desires to do. Such a group can work together and have as its goal a class.

And to have a class for the trainable children, a teacher who is a specialist in this work would be needed.

Mrs. Dudley would like to contact any parents of trainable children in the county before a meeting is held. That is, she would like to explain the situation and setup before calling a meeting of the group. Her phone number is Harrisburg 318-J.

STENCIL CUTTER: Mrs. Marie McCormick, HTHS secretary, may have a distinction. She may be the only person who has cut a stencil for her own graduation program and cut another for her daughter, Regina, who will graduate this year.

WE GROW 'EM BETTER DEPT.: Did you ever see the roses looking as beautiful as they have the past several days. Just drive around and look for roses in the yards of the local residents. You'll see plenty of beautiful ones. Didn't know there were so many red climbers in town until I took a ride around one day.

MY WIFE doesn't understand me, does yours? Is the line of a conversation between two men, reported by Royce Bridges in the Vienna Times.

"Dunno, never heard her mention your name," was the reply.

A CARBONDALE first grader, returned from a visit to Springfield, told his teacher: "We didn't get there in time to see Lincoln. They already had buried him."

AND THE WOMAN MOTORIST who lived somewhere between Harrisburg and New Orleans who said to the mechanic: "They say I have a short circuit. Can you lengthen it while I wait, please?"

Baccalaureate Service Sunday At Davenport Gym

The annual Baccalaureate service of the Harrisburg Township high school will be held at 7:30 p. m. Sunday at Davenport gymnasium with the Rev. Glen L. Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, delivering the sermon.

The service precedes the annual Commencement program, which will be held starting at 8 p. m. Friday, May 28, also in Davenport gym.

The program for the Baccalaureate service has been announced by Principal Raymond L. Foster as follows:

Organ prelude by Mona Wickham.

Class processional, "March from Aida," Harrisburg Township high school orchestra.

Invocation by Lt. John W. Kimmons of the Harrisburg unit of The Salvation Army.

Hymn, "This Is My Father's World," Mona Wickham, organist. Scripture reading by the Rev. J. D. McCarthy, pastor of McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Vocal solo, "Spirit Divine," Myra Burnam.

Baccalaureate sermon, "What Is That in Your Hand?"—Rev. Glen L. Daugherty.

Hymn, "Are Ye Able?"

Benediction by the Rev. R. J. Morman, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Class recessional, "March from Aida," HTHS orchestra.

Metropolis Boy Pleads Guilty to Killing Father

High School Youth
Says He Feared
Harm to Sister

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Ophis Evans Jr., 16, said Wednesday he shot his father last June 29 because he feared his father would harm his 3-year-old sister.

The Metropolis High School senior testified at a hearing held by Circuit Judge Clarence E. Wright to gather evidence before sentencing the boy on his plea of guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

Wright took the case under advisement after hearing 20 defense witnesses and three state witnesses. Defense attorneys plan to submit a motion for probation for the youth. The judge was not expected to sentence Evans until he graduates from high school next month.

The youth said he was on his way home from church on the night of June 29, 1953, when he heard his little sister scream. He said he went into the house, laid down his Bible and seized a pistol which he bought to protect his mother.

The youth said he went to the front porch and ordered his father, who had been released from Anna State Hospital shortly before on condition that he stay away from his family, to leave the house and never come back. He said he fired a warning shot into the air and his father left the porch carrying the little girl.

The youth said his father started running with the girl in his arms and the boy said "I went to pieces." He feared his father.

"I could see him taking her away and slamming her against a wall just as he slammed me once when I was sick," the high school honor student said. "All the things he had done to me in the past came before my eyes as he started away. Without knowing what I was doing I started shooting."

Evans would not say whether he bought the gun to kill his father and he declined a definite answer on whether he was right or wrong in shooting his father.

"There was nothing else I could do," he said.

Efforts to impanel a jury to try Evans on a murder charge to which he pleaded innocent were in the seventh day when he pleaded guilty to the voluntary manslaughter charge.

Mrs. Ophis Evans Sr. testified of past "physical and mental cruelty" by her husband to her and her children. She said he had been released from Anna State Hospital shortly before the shooting on condition that he stay away from his family. She said he visited the family home three times before the day he was shot by his son in the front yard.

Mrs. Evans described how her son ordered his father from the home before firing warning shots from his pistol. The mother said she did not see the shooting.

Carol Evans, 14, testified that her father had threatened to kill members of the family and beat her and her mother.

Recover Body of Boy, Fourth Drowning Victim

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (AP)—The body of Johnny Hollinger, 12, of Mill Shoals, one of four persons drowned on a fishing trip on the Ohio river April 30, was recovered early today near Rosiclare.

Crewmen on a towboat going upriver sighted the body but when they lowered a boat they were unable to recover the body because fog cut visibility. The boat crew notified the lock keeper at Dam 51 who called the sheriff's office here.

Game Warden Martin Turley went out in a motorboat and recovered the body. Identification was made from the boy's clothing. The bodies of David Conaway, 25, Fairfield; Ray Merritt, 36, Cline, and Charles Reynolds, 22, Mills Shoals, were recovered earlier.

R. D. Brown Jr. is Transferred to Highway Office at Springfield

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Brown Jr., of Murphysboro, former residents of Harrisburg, will move to Springfield, Ill., about June 1, to which office of the Illinois Division of Highways Mr. Brown has been transferred.

He has been working out of the Carbondale office in the design department, and will follow similar duties in Springfield. He will be in the office of Dick Sherertz, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Mugee of Harrisburg, who is now assistant engineer of design in the Division of Highways.

MOST VALUABLE—Winner of the Most Valuable Student award presented by Harrisburg Elks Lodge 1058 at annual Honor Day program at HTHS Monday was James Govan, senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Govan.

FBI Charges 4 With Olmsted Bank Robbery

Three Rock Island,
One Moline Man
Are Now in Custody

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The FBI reported today that four men suspected of staging the $16,776 robbery of the First State Bank of Olmsted, Ill., May 5 now are in custody.

Agents announced the arrest of Charles Gore, 41, and Morris N. Carver, 41, at their Rock Island homes late Wednesday on bank robbery warrants issued by U. S. Commissioner W. W. Damron, Harrisburg.

The FBI said it also had issued a warrant for James Freeman, 26, Rock Island, who had been in custody of Rock Island police since May 7 on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Joseph Ligon, 31, Moline, was arrested on a Moline street by FBI agents May 11, and charged with taking part in the robbery.

All Four Negroes

The FBI said Carver, Freeman and Ligon were charged with holding up the bank, while Gore drove the get-away car. The four men, all Negroes, denied participation in the holdup.

Gore and Carver were held in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

They were scheduled for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Thomas Sennett at Rock Island today.

Olmsted is at the southern tip of Illinois, more than 300 miles from Moline and Rock Island. The FBI said the arrest of Ligon, a native of the Olmsted area, led to the taking of the other three suspects.

Freeman was reported to have been arrested by Rock Island police when he began spending $20 bills freely and was waving a gun in a tavern, two days after the Olmsted holdup.

Auto Show on Square Attracts Lots of Attention

The Jaycee-sponsored Automobile Show on the north side of the square today was attracting lots of attention, with nearly a score of sleek, shining new model cars being shown.

At mid-morning 18 automobiles were on the street that was closed off for the occasion. Several more were expected this afternoon and tonight.

All makes of automobiles sold by local dealers were in the show and in many instances, more than one model of these were being exhibited.

The show will continue until eight o'clock tonight and tomorrow it will be presented until 5 p. m.

Three baskets of groceries will be awarded tomorrow afternoon. All persons who visit the free show may register without obligation.

John A. Johnson, field representative at the Harrisburg Social Security office, is in Marion Memorial hospital suffering critical injuries suffered early today.

M'Carthy Says He Asked Meeting With President

White House Denies Knowledge of Request by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today it knew of no direct request by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to explain his side to President Eisenhower before the Army-McCarthy row "exploded" publicly.

But Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty would not discuss McCarthy's claim that an effort for an appointment was made through Victor A. Johnson, and Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, the President's liaison man with Congress.

Johnson is director of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee. McCarthy said that sometime between Jan. 22 and Feb. 24 he asked Johnson to seek the appointment through Persons.

Hagerty said he knew of "no request by the senator at that time for an appointment with the President."

Hagerty's reply hinged on the idea that no request was made directly by the senator or his office. He said that "the usual practice is by a senator or someone in his office."

Says Call Not Returned

The Wisconsin Republican said he tried and failed to get the appointment. He said he thought the President "was not getting all the facts, and before we had a spectacle here, he should get my version."

He said that Persons "hasn't called back."

But McCarthy said he did not consider this a snub since the President is "a busy man." He said he could not remember the exact date he sought the appointment, but said it was "well before this thing exploded."

McCarthy, meanwhile, said he was "at a loss" to decide whether to go ahead with the Army-McCarthy hearings because of a presidential order forbidding testimony about a high level administration conference last Jan. 21 on the dispute.

He would not give a flat yes or no on whether he and his staff will boycott the stormy hearings which are to resume Monday. But McCarthy said the President's secrecy order was "completely unfair to my staff" and said Mr. Eisenhower was "making a grave mistake."

"I can't understand someone saying in one breath, 'I want all the facts on the table, I want the investigation to continue,' and in the next breath saying, 'I will not let the facts come out,'" McCarthy told reporters.

Rabies Vaccinations On Saturdays At Humane Shelter

Beginning Saturday and continuing on Saturdays until further notice, the Harrisburg Humane society will sponsor rabies vaccinations from 1 to 4 p. m. at its shelter on the Dorris Heights road across from the fairgrounds.

Dr. W. H. Dean will administer the shots for $1.50 and dog owners are urged by the society to take advantage of the opportunity to have their animals vaccinated as the June 1 deadline is nearing when it is a state law that all dogs not confined be vaccinated. Dogs should be taken on leashes.

Since Harrisburg is without a veterinarian, it has been the endeavor of the society for some time to secure the services of a veterinarian at the shelter for the advantage of local dog owners. Also, plans are to hold one evening vaccination before June 1, the date to be announced later. In the past the vaccinations have been held at the city hall but they have been switched to the shelter.

Cairo to Celebrate Freeing Bridge Saturday; Host to Beauty Pageant

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—This southernmost Illinois city will celebrate the freeing of a Mississippi river bridge, play host to a beauty pageant and take a look at its historic past this weekend.

Gov. William G. Stratton and a representative of Missouri Gov. Phil M. Donnelly will cut ribbons at 11 a. m. Saturday on the Cairo side of the bridge spanning the Mississippi to Birds Point, Mo. After that the bridge, which was opened in 1929, will be toll-free.

Fireworks Saturday Night

A bridge festival parade will start at 1 p. m. Saturday with bands, floats and military units in the line of march. Fireworks from a barge in the Ohio river Saturday night will climax the festival. The Miss Illinois beauty pageant to pick a downstate beauty queen to represent the state in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J., will be held Saturday night. Those attending the bridge festival will get an early look at the contestants as they ride in open cars in the parade.

AEC Assured of Funds to Push Production of A-H Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today was assured its biggest appropriation in history—more than one billion dollars—to push production of hydrogen and atomic weapons.

The funds were contained in a $5,700,796,413 money bill voted by the Senate Wednesday to operate the AEC and more than two dozen other independent federal agencies in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The measure now goes to a House-Senate conference committee to thrash out differences with the House version.

Bloodmobile to Visit County On June 8 and 9

Hopes are high for another quota-busting effort by Saline counties during the next visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, scheduled for June 8-9 in Harrisburg and Eldorado.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Harrisburg Elks lodge on June 8 from 12 noon until 6 p. m., and at the Methodist Educational building in Eldorado during the same hours on June 9.

Blood Donor Recruitment Chairman Gene Schrieler announced that Mrs. B. E. Montgomery's residential recruitment committee is already hard at work on a house-to-house canvass for blood donors in Harrisburg. Mrs. Montgomery has divided the residential area into districts, with the following local women as district chairmen: Mrs. Wayne Dixon, Mrs. Ed Brantley, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Mrs. Bob Burnett, Mrs. Inglis Taylor, Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, Miss Cuba Turner, Mrs. Russell Ashford, Mrs. George Rees, Mrs. Glen McCormack, Mrs. Fred Wilmoth, Mrs. Donald O'Neal, Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. George Christman, Mrs. Vivian Bacon, and Miss Alta Johnson.

During the first week in June, the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will again solicit blood donors in the business district. The hard work of the residential committee and the Jaycees was directly responsible for Saline county's fine showing during the last Bloodmobile visit, Schrieler said, and it is hoped that the results of this trip will be equally gratifying.

He was born in Saline county March 10, 1868, and in 1890 married Melvina Harris, who preceded him in death in 1947.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Gussie Reese, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Fred Harris, Watseka, and two grandsons, Charles Reese, Harrisburg, and Robert Shanks, Gilman. A son, Roy Shanks, also preceded him in death.

He spent his childhood in Saline county.

He was a member of the South American Baptist church in Saline county, the Woodman and Elks lodges in Watseka, Association of General Contractors and the Illinois Association of Contractors.

The body is now at the Seegar funeral home in Watseka where it will lie in state until funeral time which is Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Christian church. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Brookport Man is Sentenced for $2000 Armed Robbery

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Walter Edwards of Brookport was sentenced here Wednesday to 6 to 12 years in the Menard State Penitentiary for the $2,000 armed robbery of a Brookport store last December.

Circuit Judge Clarence E. Wright denied a defense motion for a new trial. Edwards' attorneys indicated they may appeal the case to the State Supreme Court.

Six Persons Named In Four More Labor Indictments

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP)—Four indictments naming six persons were returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury investigating labor racketeering in southern Illinois.

Names of the defendants will not be disclosed until they are taken into custody.

U. S. Atty. Clifford M. Raemer said the indictments involve four persons not previously charged and two persons named in earlier indictments.

The jury had indicted four AFL union officers on April 28, charging them with extortion and attempted extortion.

Federal Judge Casper Platt set the bond at $25,000 on the four new defendants and $10,000 on the two previously named.

Form Downstate Organization To Fight Remap

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Rumblings of an organized fight against Gov. William G. Stratton's reapportionment plan were heard today.

State Rep. Carl H. Preihs said an organization is being formed of downstate candidates for the Illinois Legislature who are opposed to the proposal to remap legislative districts.

The Pana Democrat predicted that a majority of the legislative candidates from both parties in downstate Illinois, "maybe 95 per cent of them," will unite to fight the plan.

For half a century, the legislative makeup has been unchanged. Downstate Illinois has a big majority in both houses, even though Cook County has more than half the state's population.

Stratton bulled through his plan to remap the districts, to give Cook County slim control of one house, in the 1953 legislative session. The final decision is up to the voters in November.

Organizational Meeting in June

Preihs, a bitter opponent of the proposal, said about 20 lawmakers held a strategy session here Wednesday to iron out a campaign to fight the Stratton plan. An organizational meeting will be held during the first week of June, he said.

Backers of reapportionment, including a number of civic organizations, say it would end inequities which have deprived more populous areas of the state their proper voice in state government.

Preihs, however, argued the proposed constitutional amendment would be a "blow" to downstaters, singling out the road construction program as an example.

"If reapportionment passes, it means an end to farm-to-market roads," he contended. He argued that such measures sought by downstaters would be beaten if Cook County had a majority in one house.

Granite City Man Named to SIU Board of Trustees

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Harold B. Fisher, vice president and cashier of the First National bank of Granite City, today was named to the board of trustees of Southern Illinois university.

Fisher replaces Robert C. Lanphier of Springfield, who resigned to accept appointment to a federal post.

Action Follows M'Carthy Attack On Red Trade

Is Major Port
For Transshipment
To Communist China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department today eased controls on U. S. exports to British-occupied Hong Kong, a major port for transshipment to Red China.

The action, affecting about 100 "non-strategic" commodities including wheat, flour, tobacco and shoes, came only a day after Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) denounced the administration's attitude on trade with Red China as far too lax. He said the U. S. should stop all aid to allies who trade with China.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland expects the Senate to review the question of East-West trade "fairly thoroughly" in connection with foreign aid funds this year.

No Jeopardy to Security

He made the statement after a reporter asked about the speech by McCarthy. Knowland declined to comment on the speech. Asked then if he expects the whole question of trade with the Communist bloc to get a Senate review this year, he said: "I imagine it will be studied fairly thoroughly in connection with the appropriation for the foreign operations administration."

The United States forbids exports of any kind direct to the Chinese mainland. But other Western nations, notably Britain, have long been trading with the Chinese in non-strategic goods. It was because of this British policy that the government previously restricted U. S. exports to Hong Kong.

The Commerce Department said it had been decided that controls on Hong Kong shipments could now be relaxed "without jeopardizing national security." It did not elaborate.

Barter to Build Athletic Field At McLeansboro

The J. D. Barter construction company of Harrisburg has been awarded the contract to construct an athletic field at McLeansboro, it was announced today.

McLeansboro high school dropped football in 1929, but plans are underway to resume the sport, on a limited basis the first year or so.

Former Gov. John Stelle donated for school a 12-acre field last year and it is this field that will be converted into an athletic field.

The Barter contract calls for work to start immediately and includes grading, building a track around the gridiron, erecting a fence, sodding and seeding the field and laying water and sewer lines.

John VanderPlum of Harrisburg has been employed as football coach and it is reported a sufficient number of McLeansboro high school boys have indicated an interest in football to insure a good turnout when practice starts this fall. During the first two years McLeansboro will participate in freshman-sophomore football only.

Dorrisville Social Brethren Vacation School to Begin June 7

The Dorrisville Social Brethren church will hold Vacation Bible school beginning June 7 and continuing through June 18.

The pastor, Rev. Thomas Guest, will serve as principal, Doris McGhee as secretary, and Nina McDaniel, pianist.

The intermediate class will be taught by Audrey Reed with Clara Wilson as helper, and Ellis Guley, Thomas Guest and Sam Wilson, woodworking. Nina McDaniel and Shirley Guest will teach the junior class with Eula Pinchoff as helper.

The primary class will be taught by Nancy Blue and Helen Walker with Icie Owens and Opal McDaniel as helpers. Marion Hale will teach the beginners class with Annabelle Bennett and Alice Wilson as helpers.

Mrs. Howard Moore will supervise over the kitchen ladies.

Woman Editor, 80, Prints, Publishes,
Hawks Own Paper

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — You can see her most any day in the sleepy little town of Winslow, Ark. A little old lady dashing through the streets, a battered felt hat on her head, a bundle of newspapers under her arm. A stranger passing through the Ozarks community would ask, "Who is she? A grandmother with a paper route?"

"Not exactly," any of the 400 persons in Winslow could answer. "She's Miss Maude—Mrs. Maude Duncan. She publishes those papers she's delivering."

Maude Duncan at 80 is owner, publisher, editor, reporter, printer, advertising salesman, circulation manager and carrier for the Winslow American, a four-page weekly, one of the few hand-set newspapers in the nation.

Press Wired Together
Her plant is a quaint, pine-boarded, one room cabin heated with a wood-burning stove. Her press is wired-to hold it together in several places. Type is so scattered around the office you wonder how she finds enough to set a paragraph.

"I call the plant America's outstanding example of organized confusion," Mrs. Duncan laughed. "Miss Maude" writes her news as she sets the type by hand. After the forms are filled, she feeds sheet after sheet of paper into the aged press which she runs by a foot pedal.

The front page of the American is unique. It features such items as "bits of news" about Winslow folks, an announcement of a movie at Breezy Hollow, a description of a local wedding. There are classified ads, ranging from "For sale, a monkey stove with four caps, $4," to "Wanted: an atlas of Washington county."

Sometimes "Miss Maude" firmly expresses her views on national or international events. In 1952, a July 18 front page had a black headline across the top saying, "For President, Senator Fulbright of Arkansas."

42 Years On Job
That was it. Period. There was no story under the banner. Mrs. Duncan has been bringing news to Winslow's 400 and to 400 other subscribers scattered around the nation for 46 years. She went to work on the paper in 1908, the year she married the publisher, Miss Maude worked with him for

Baby Sitters Learn
How at High School

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — A man solved the baby-sitting problem for Syracuse mothers.

"Barraged by telephone calls from women seeking help in finding sitters, Stanley Zamory, principal of East Syracuse high school, called a conference of members of the school Mothers' Club. The result was the founding of the 'School for Sitters.'"

"Anyone can be a baby sitter but not everyone can be a good sitter" is the theory behind the school. The school health teacher heads the program, assisted by guidance and home economics experts and three club members.

They emphasize that no attempt is made to set wage standards for sitters, that the only motive of the school is to prepare the "students," mostly teenagers, for the job. A directory of trained sitters, with addresses and telephone numbers, is maintained for the parents.

Some of the "do's" for sitters: Know the name, address and telephone number of your employer; arrive on time; know where you are sitting; ask where you will find things you need; pay attention to your job; treat the house you work in as if it were your own; charge reasonable fees; and report unusual happenings and telephone messages to the parents.

The most important "taboos" for sitters:

Don't get into your employers' belongings; don't compare unfavorable notes about the children; don't raid the icebox; don't make a social affair of the job by inviting friends in.

Captain Charles Yaeger was first man to fly an airplane faster than sound, on Oct. 14, 1947.

10 years, until his death. In 1918 she wrote and set her husband's obituary, gave it top spot on the front page, and took over the paper.

The publisher says she's not made much money, but she's been busy and useful, and she has a goal.

The goal?

She expresses it best when she says to any stranger who comes to the nation for 46 years. She went to work on the paper in 1908, the year she married the publisher, Miss Maude worked with him for

What Yuh Say?

By MERRILL BLOSSER

By AL Capp

By LESLIE TURNER

THE STORY: Lenny Dahlstrom, sensing that she has not won the approval of her mother-in-law, with whom Lenny and her young husband have lived since their recent marriage, is determined to break down the barriers that seem to exist between them. But almost everything Lenny does seems wrong, and the young bride senses days of misery ahead.

X

A chuckling sound, the first real laugh Elaine had heard from Mrs. Dahlstrom, made Elaine turn her head. "That horse!" She laughed again far back in her throat. "How he hated the sight of a woman."

"I guess he still does," Elaine replied, smiling. "Nevertheless, Rex took a loaf of sugar from me before he jerked away." She watched Mrs. Dahlstrom and when the austere look did not reappear immediately a warm sensation began to flow inside the young woman.

Then Mrs. Dahlstrom stopped smiling. Her dark eyebrows raised in disbelief. "You didn't go near that horse, did you?"

"Yes, I thought he might be friendly."

"Well, he won't be," Mrs. Dahlstrom warned.

Elaine's blood seemed to turn to ice in her veins as the notion flitted through her mind that Mrs. Dahlstrom meant that she wouldn't be friendly either. Rubbing her cold hands together first, she picked up a circle of dough and dropped it into the hot fat.

Whatever made her think she could say or do any thing that would please this woman? A chilly rivulet of perspiration began to trickle down her spine. Was Mrs. Dahlstrom working to destroy Tom's love for her, just like she was destroying Elaine's self-esteem? The question bit at her with the open fangs of a snake and Elaine could feel the strange poison of hatred begin to seep through her veins.

When at last the final doughnut was cooling on brown paper, a totally perverse sense of obligation Elaine was powerless to deny prompted her to ask, "Is there anything else I can do for you? Dust? Or vacuum?"

"No, thank you," Mrs. Dahlstrom said roughly. Elaine could almost feel the effort she had to make to control her voice. "You've done enough already."

Again, Elaine sensed a double meaning. Elaine had taken Tom. She felt weak with discouragement. "I'll go upstairs and unpack then," she said, wondering if Mrs. Dahlstrom noted the tremor in her voice. She escaped the kitchen, but Mrs. Dahlstrom's enigmatical eyes seemed to follow her through the house and up the stairs.

Swinging her heavy suitcase up on the window seat, she opened it and was about to unfasten the hanger clasp when she glanced out the window. A long wire of pain pierced her heart.

Tom's tractor was parked at the far end of the east field. Near him, on the other side of the fence, pranced a sorrel horse. Even at this distance, Elaine could see how the sun burnished its sleek hide with the same brilliant color caught in the hair that billowed around the shoulders of his rider. Elaine's fingers seemed to congeal around the hanger clasp.

Bitterly, she wondered what Tom and Astrid were talking about. Or perhaps Astrid was doing all the talking, hypnotizing Tom with her charming witticisms and tinkling laughter. An eternity dragged by before the sorrel horse wheeled around and the trees guarding a secret trail through the forest hid him and Astrid from view. Tom's tractor moved slowly across the field.

The spot where Astrid had vanished seemed to bismudge the whole length of the autumn-hued forest. For a long time Elaine kept her eyes on it, while the leaden weight of helplessness settled around her. Automatically, she started to close the suitcase. Why unpack at all? Better to go today than postpone her leave-taking until her spirit was dead as a stump on the hill. As Mrs. Dahlstrom said, it was better to live down a mistake than to try to live with one.

The snap of the suitcase clasps was like a bomb-burst in the quiet room. Inexplicably, exasperation, like steam from a geyser, began to spurt through Elaine. Opening the suitcase again, she yanked out the carefully packed dresses, whipped them through the air, scattering tissue on the floor, jerked open the closet door and hung them.

Why must she always sell herself short? What was the matter with her anyway? Tom loved her. He said so. Period. He had said his mother was swell. Period. He had said nothing about Astrid. It was up to her to find out whether Astrid was important to him or not. No sensible woman would make an issue of a neighborly chat over the back fence, whether that fence enclosed a 1000-foot by 60 lot or a 200-acre farm.

Ecstasy began to merge with her exasperation as she arranged her few pieces of clean lingerie in the dresser drawer. Rinsing out some of her soiled undergarments, she hung them on the towel rack in the bathroom. The laundry sack of dirty clothes she thrust behind the tub and wondered when she'd get the courage to ask Mrs. Dahlstrom if she could use the washing machine.

Next, she must go downstairs to Tom's old room and bring up his clothing. What pleasure it was going to be to do things for Tom. Ever since her parents died, she had had no one to do things for really, except herself. She sighed, thinking of the future and a golden bubble of happiness surrounding her.

"Elaine, Elaine. Will you come down, please." The pitch of Mrs. Dahlstrom's voice told Elaine that this was not the first time she had called. The unmistakable command prickled at the bubble, but it didn't burst.

Search for Missing Scientist of Oak Ridge Plant

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Police made a wide search today for an atomic scientist who has been missing for at least 24 days and said a chance of foul play was not being overlooked.

The missing man was listed as Marion B. Sample, 48, an analyst for the Carbide and Carbon Corp. at the Atomic Energy Commission's K25 diffusion plant, who was reported last seen on April 26.

"We have no reason to believe this man met foul play," Police Capt. A. A. Addison said, "but we are not overlooking this possibility."

Carbide and Carbon officials said Sample last reported for work on April 25 but an investigation showed that he was last seen when he visited a friend at nearby Oliver Springs on April 26.

The company said that on May 13 it listed Sample as discharged because of "unsatisfactory attendance."

An investigation was not begun, however, until a teenaged boy who had chauffeured for Sample finally turned the missing man's car in at a used car lot, police said.

De Valera Gov't
Loses in Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Returns from Ireland's general election gave opposition parties a parliamentary majority today that spelled retirement of half-blind, New York City born Prime Minister Eamon De Valera.

The 71-year-old "Dev" retained his own seat in Parliament but the government he headed for 19 out of the last 22 years lost out to a combination of opponents — whose only common aim was to topple him. Opposition leader John Costello, who was prime minister from 1948 to 1951, was regarded as the likely successor to De Valera in a coalition government.

Karl Oehm, formerly with the Sahara Coal Co. and now residing at Daytona Beach, Fla., is visiting friends and relatives in Harrisburg and Eldorado. Mr. and Mrs. Oehm motored to St. Louis where Mrs. Oehm went on to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to visit her sister, Mrs. C. T. Westbrook. After a visit there she will come to Saline county and spend several days before they start their return trip to Florida. Mr. Oehm reported that their daughter, Mrs. Tom Williams, and children are residing in Washington, D. C., where she is employed as librarian by World News, a weekly periodical.

Xi Chi Chapter Observes Annual Birthday Party

Members of Xi Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the Pine Room at Farris' in Johnston City on Tuesday evening, May 18, to observe their annual birthday party with Mrs. Orle Brothers, Mrs. O. L. Turner Jr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn as hostesses for the evening.

The long table was beautifully decorated with a large milk glass bowl filled with yellow rosebuds as a centerpiece. Tall yellow candles in milk glass holders completed the arrangement. On each side of the table birthday cakes decorated with yellow candles were used. Individual favors of pale green milk glass bowls with a yellow rosebud in each were used as place cards.

After a delicious dinner Mrs. Herman Boatright presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Clyde Dallas, with a beautiful gift on behalf of the sorority members. In an impressive ceremony new officers were installed for the coming year by Mrs. Dallas.

New officers installed were Mrs. Herman Boatright, president; Mrs. Lowell Moore, vice president; Mrs. Hudson Mugge, secretary; Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. George Barnes, treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the sorority convention to be held in St. Louis, Mo., on June 19 and 20 at Hotel Jefferson. Mrs. Vera Gregg and Mrs. Jack Davenport were named as delegates to attend.

Mrs. Boatright, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Mugge were chosen to represent Xi Chi chapter on the city council of Beta Sigma Phi.

During the social hour Gin Rummy was played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Rob Roy Brown, Mrs. Lewis Fulkerson, Mrs. Hugh Walker and Mrs. Tom Foster.

The following members were present: Mrs. Hudson Mugge, Mrs. Charles E. Seten Jr., Mrs. Rob Roy Brown, Mrs. Vera Gregg, Mrs. George D. Barnes, Mrs. George E. Johnson, Mrs. Muriel Partain, Mrs. John Schork, Mrs. Herman Boatright, Mrs. Clyde Dallas, Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, Mrs. Lewis Fulkerson, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, Mrs. Harold Empson, Mrs. Tom Foster, Mrs. Glynn McCormack, Mrs. Jack Davenport and the hostesses, Mrs. O. L. Turner Jr., Mrs. Orle Brothers and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn.

Saline County Girl Scout Council Meets

The Saline County Girl Scout Council met recently at the McKinley school.

The president, Mrs. Charles Farrar, conducted the short business meeting during which time the chairman of the committees gave reports. Mrs. O. L. Turner reported on the Juliet Lowe fund, and Mrs. Leo Fowler on the Girl Scout cookie sale.

Mrs. Donald O'Neal announced that the Girl Scout camp would be held in August at Dixon Springs and that the Brownie Day camp date and place would be announced later.

The training chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Capel, stated that she would work out plans for the training council in the fall, since the leaders agreed to hold it.

The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Mary Jane Nielson, a national inspector, who used as her theme "Look Wide," telling of the advantages of senior scouting and the worthwhile things that were accomplished. She explained the setup of the national management and gave a question and answer test which proved informative.

McKinley T. E. L. Class Meets at Reynolds Home

Members of the T. E. L. Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met to quilt Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Otis Reynolds Sr., on West College street.

Lunch was enjoyed at noon by those in attendance, including the following specially invited: Mrs. Herbert Clark, Mrs. Nora White-side, Mrs. Nancy Fowler, Mrs. George Rumsey, Mrs. Earl Horne and Miss Peggy Raley.

Class members present were Miss Elsa Tyndall and Mesdames Noah Raley, Levi Chitty, teacher, George Harbison, B. H. Smith, Fred Fulkerson, R. O. Clether, James Raley, Alta Noonan, Leonard Jackson, Emery Randolph and Versa Hetterscheidt.

Ferguson Asks Conference to Heal Allied Split

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) called today for a "harmony" conference of the free world to heal the current split in the Allied front against Communism.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) at the same time warned Britain that it will be the "loser" if it refuses to join in the Southeast Asia defense alliance the United States is trying to create.

The two congressmen spoke out as President Eisenhower called conferences on the Indochina crisis with his National Security Council today and with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and New Zealand's external affairs minister, T. Clifton Webb, later today.

Eliminate Discord

Ferguson, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, urged a conference of Western powers so the Allies can "get together psychologically as well as militarily." He did not elaborate but he indicated such a parity might eliminate some of the divisions now plaguing the Allies at Geneva and in Southeast Asia.

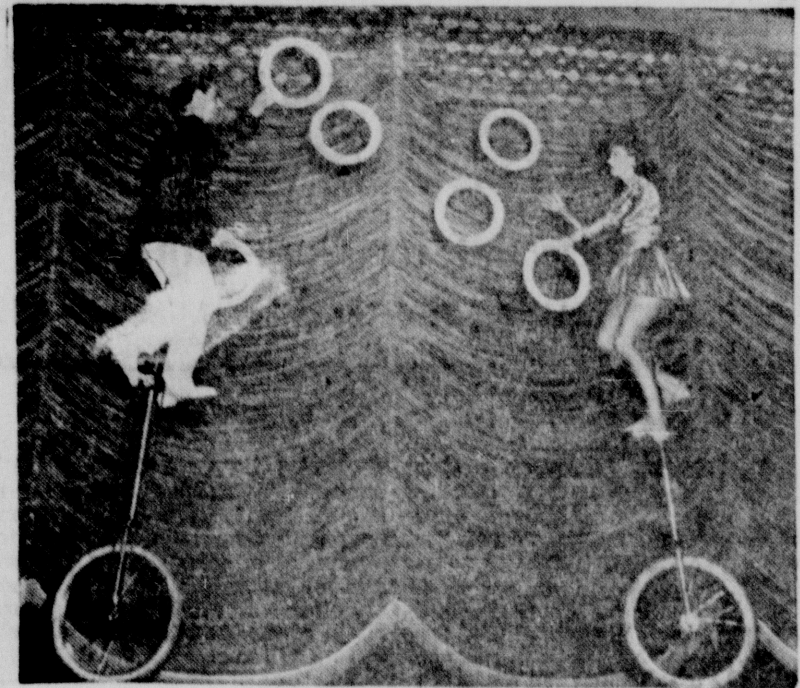

Smith, who heads the Senate Far Eastern Affairs Subcommittee, said the United States must go ahead with the creation of the proposed alliance even if Britain doesn't join.

Smith said he believes Britain has made the "mistake" of dragging its feet because of domestic politics and eventually will join the alliance because of the vast interests it has at stake in the area.

DEXTEROUS DANES—Lot and Anders, monocyte-balance jugglers from Denmark, will be among the many unique acts with Tom Packs' Southern Illinois Shrine Circus which will show at Harrisburg Wednesday, June 16.

Outstanding Acts Will Be Presented In Shrine Circus Here on June 16

With scores of internationally famous circus stars and many new European importations on its program, Tom Packs' Southern Illinois Shrine Circus, sponsored by Anad Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., and the Shrine Clubs of Southern Illinois, will play in the following cities on the following dates: Cairo, June 14; Carbondale, June 15; Harrisburg, June 16; Marshall, June 17; Centralia, June 18; Alton, June 19; East St. Louis, June 20; Belleville, June 22; Mattoon, June 23; Mt. Carmel, June 24; and Carmi, June 25.

Outstanding among the new acts is The Olympic Bear aggregation with 14 bears of 12 different species, all natural enemies of each other, appearing together in a special 30-foot steel arena. The group is presented by Miss Charlotte Welch, one of circus-dom's bravest women; the Rhodins, Swedish aerial acrobats in their first American tour; the Arturos, recklessly daring high-wire stars; Jack Joyce with America's only group of performing camels; James and Jo Madison with Tom Packs' Siamese elephants; the Celebrated Alberto Zoppe Family of somersaulting equestrian pyramids, featuring 20-year-old, 37-inch-tall Cuccolo, the earth's smallest stunt rider; the Zucchini and La Val troupe, flying trapeze daredevils; and the Pacheco-Bolanos, South American equilibrists who balance themselves on their index fingers.

Also on the program are the Three Ghezzi Brothers, hilarious comedy acrobats, recent arrivals from France, and from Denmark come Paio and Mai and Lott and Anders, juggling phenomena atop 20-foot-high monocytes.

Still others are the Snyderers with a retinue of canines of the Boxer variety; the Eddies and Valentinos, outstanding trampolinists; the Royal Rockets and the Original Marvel Trio, roller skating wizards on miniature stages; the Taylors,

Is Hurt in Crash

R. W. Rhinehart of Harrisburg was injured in an automobile accident about 5 a. m. today. The accident occurred on route 460, five miles east of McLeansboro and was investigated by Hamilton county Sheriff George Taylor.

Rhinehart, employed by Allis-Chalmers, St. Louis branch, was driving alone in a 1954 Chevrolet, going east on route 460, according to the report. His car apparently left the highway, ran into a driveway to a farm yard and the automobile turned over.

He was taken to Pearce hospital, Eldorado. Extent of his injuries were not known this morning.

Of Medical Society
Hits Socialization

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The medical profession has "very little" certain knowledge about the common disease known as apoplexy or stroke, Dr. Lewis J. Pollock, professor emeritus at Northwestern University Medical School, said today.

Pollock in an address to the Illinois State Medical Society at its annual meeting here, said "all we know is that all strokes, whatever the cause, are related to heart and blood vessel insufficiency."

Dr. Willis I. Lewis, Herrin, Ill., retiring president, told the society of the "menace of socialization."

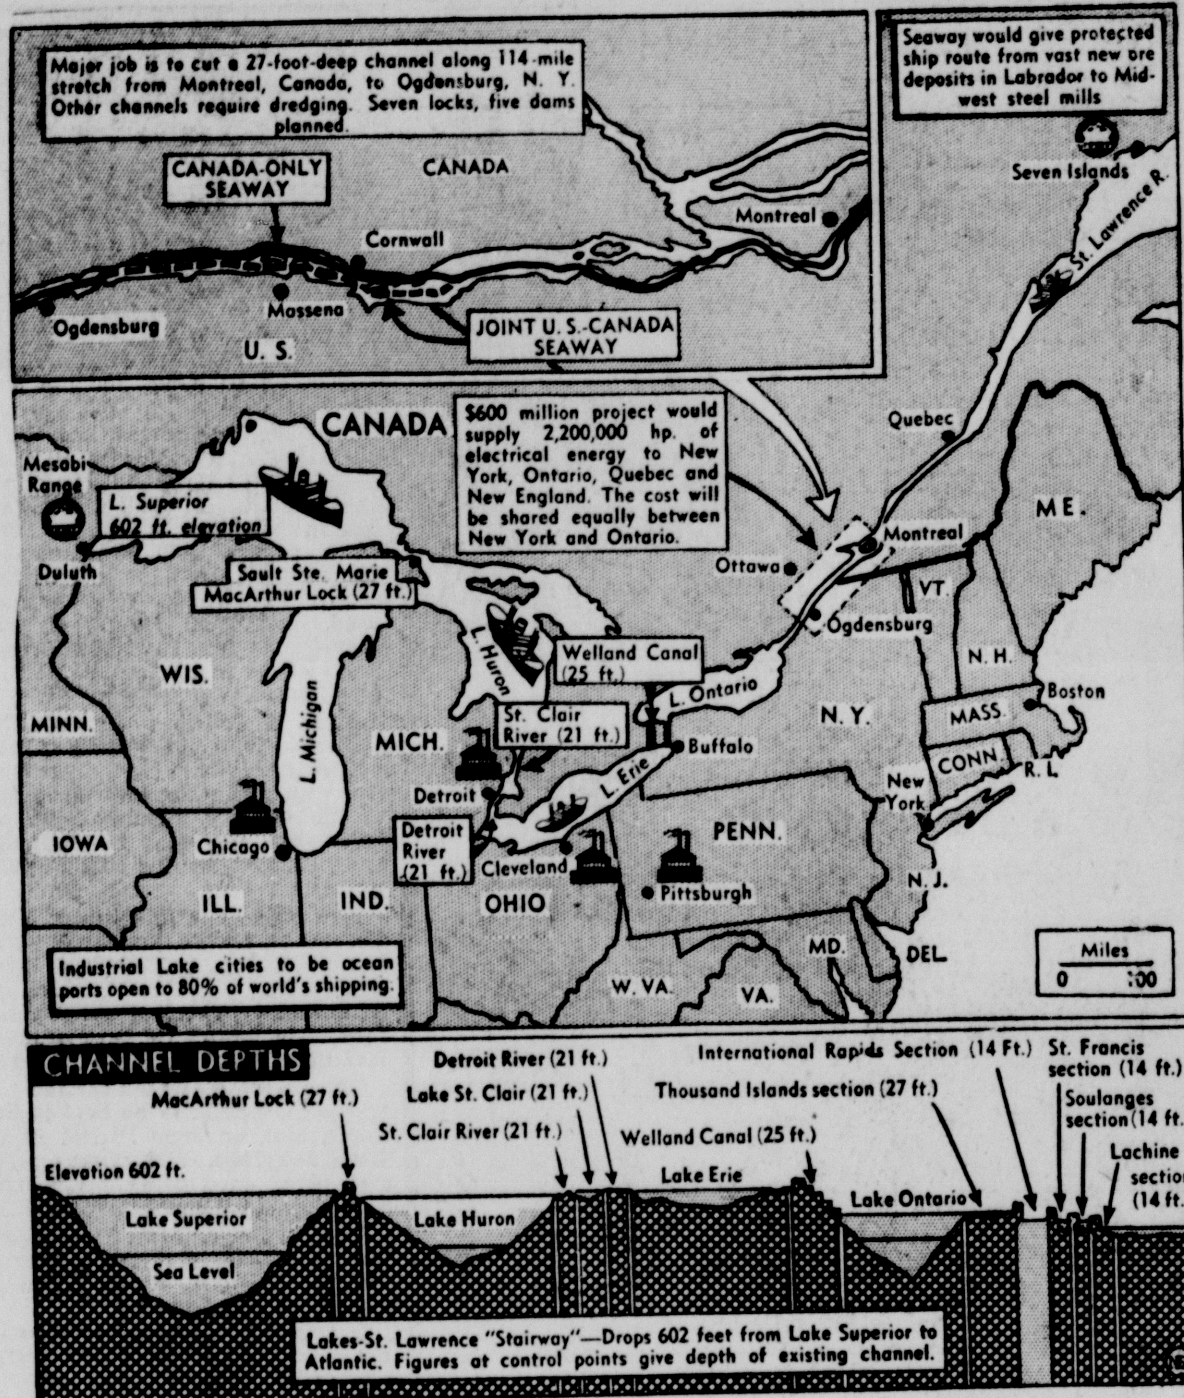

He indicated lost confidence in the Eisenhower administration's promises to free the profession from "creeping socialism."

CHAMPAIGN (U.P.)—The fire department today launched an investigation for evidence of arson after the third fire in three weeks at Holy Cross Catholic church.

Mrs. C. J. Higgins, pastor of the church, estimated damage from Wednesday's first at $5,000.

Besides the three fires, the church has been robbed twice in the last 10 days. Money was taken from a coat in a hall last week, and the Wednesday before the fire a poor box was robbed.

GREAT LAKES 'GATEWAY' TO THE ATLANTIC—When President Eisenhower signed the St. Lawrence Seaway bill, a 50-year debate ended, and a dream became a reality. After completion the Seaway will link the large port cities on the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. Major project at present will be to cut a 27-foot-deep channel from Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Montreal, Canada, shown in detail upper left. The next project will be to enlarge and deepen all waterways west of Detroit, so that ocean-going vessels can travel between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mesabi Range in Minnesota. The Seaway is expected to play an important part in the defense plans of both the U. S. and Canada, and is expected to fill the Midwest steel mills' need for new supplies of iron ore from the Quebec-Labrador fields. Varying water levels of the canals and lakes along the waterway are shown in chart at bottom.

Eden Seeks Big 4 Compromise On Indochina

GENEVA, Switzerland (U.P.)—The West, alarmed by reports of a massive shift of Communist power toward Indochina's Red River delta, tried to save the peace negotiations today by engineering a secret big power compromise.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai this morning for an hour and was invited to dinner by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

Eden, with the strong support of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, tried to determine whether the Communists are bent on maintaining the present deadlock or really want to negotiate an end of the 7 1/2 year war.

Reports Back to West
After his talks with Chou, Eden reported to a 75-minute strategy session of the Western Big Three delegates.

The United States was lukewarm to the idea of Eden's meetings with the top Reds but Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith went along with it on the understanding there would be no compromise on fundamental principles.

Smith was scheduled to meet Monday with India's roving ambassador, V. K. Krishna Menon, who was believed to be bringing some new proposals from Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Soviet officials said Molotov also was scheduled to see the Indian diplomat, who has requested appointments with all the big power representatives.

BOSTON (U.P.)—John Philipopoulos, 60, who arrived here from Greece in 1909 as a penniless immigrant and built a fortune by starting with a banana pushcart, was asked the secret of his success.

"You can make money," Philipopoulos explained, "if you have a better product than the next chap. I always bought the best bananas, sold them cheaper than the others, and sold more of them. It's funny, but if you don't try to make money too fast, you make it faster."

Directed Verdict of Innocent for 7 in Horsemeat Scandal

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Leslie E. Salter Wednesday directed a verdict of innocent in the case of seven men accused of crimes in the Illinois horsemeat scandal. The judge said there was "insufficient evidence" to continue the case.

The acquittal ended all court action against persons involved in the alleged 20-million-dollar horsemeat racket of 1950 and 1951.

Rhee-Endorsed Candidate Believed Rejected in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korean voters apparently rejected one of President Syngman Rhee's personally endorsed candidates for National Assembly, early returns from South Korea's second assembly elections indicated tonight.

Ballots separated into piles before counting showed Im Chul Ho, a government liberal candidate, far behind his leading opponent, Yun Chi Yung, in one of Seoul's 16 legislative districts.

Yun, vice chairman of the last assembly, did not have Rhee's endorsement, although he is not considered anti-Rhee.

The aging president wants a two-thirds control of the assembly's 293 seats, but most observers doubted his candidates would win even half that number.

However, Rhee and his Cabinet were in no danger of falling. He appoints his ministers independently of the assembly and his term runs two more years.

Stassen Hits M'Carthy Attack On Trade Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen charged Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today with attacking the administration's trade policy merely to turn the headlines away from his "sorry" record in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

In one of his rare Senate speeches, McCarthy declared late Wednesday that the administration is guilty of "criminal folly" in granting aid to U. S. allies who ship "the sinews of military and economic strength" to Red China.

The United States could cut off most of the world trade with Communist countries, he cried, "by simply telling our allies that they will not get one American dollar while any of their flag ships are plying this immoral, dishonest and indecent trade."

McCarthy conceded his speech, similar to others he has made on the subject, would be "hailed by some as an attack upon the Eisenhower administration." But he said he felt he had to make the contribution to Far Eastern policy anyway.

Stassen came out second best in a clash with McCarthy on a trade issue last year. But he slammed back hard following the senator's speech Wednesday.

"What he says is fantastic, unbelievable and untrue," the aid chief said. "We are steadily building for peace under President Eisenhower's leadership while Senator McCarthy is frantically reaching toward diversionary headlines after the sorry spectacle of his record in the recent hearings."

The tone of Stassen's remarks provided new evidence that the White House reaction to attacks by McCarthy is stiffening.

Group is Ready To Vote Boost In Vet Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Veterans Committee was reported ready today to approve a general increase in veterans' pensions and compensation.

The boost would run as high as 20 per cent, average more than 10 per cent, and add an estimated 290 million dollars to pension and compensation costs now running about $2,500,000,000 yearly.

Virtually all the 3,676,872 ex-servicemen and their dependents drawing monthly checks from the Veterans Administration "as of March 31 would share in the increase, committee sources said."

Rep. Edmund P. Radwan (R-NY), the bill's sponsor, and committee Chairman Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) joined in a forecast that the bill would win committee approval. Neither would say whether administration leaders had agreed to clear it for a vote in the House. So far in this Congress the veterans committee has been reported under pressure not to recommend any legislation calling for big new spending.

Some committee Democrats were reported suspicious of the pension bill. They wondered whether the plan might be to report it from the veterans committee and possibly pass it in the House—where members could go on record for it.

Senate Votes $50,000 for Investigations of Contests in Fall Elections

By United Press

The Senate voted $50,000 today for investigation of any contests that may develop in this fall's senatorial elections.

The money will go to the Rules Committee Elections Subcommittee. The rules group originally asked $75,000.

But Chairman William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) proposed the lower figure. He said the subcommittee will ask for more money later if more contests than usual develop.

Other late news:

Trade: Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland expects the Senate to review the issue of East-West trade "fairly" thoroughly. He thinks the study will be made "in connection with" foreign aid appropriations. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has proposed that aid be cut off to nations who do any business with Communist countries.

Predicts TV Monopoly

TV stations: Television pioneer Dr. Allen B. Dumont told a Senate commerce subcommittee that the nation is headed for a TV "monopoly," with two networks instead of the present four, unless the government does something to help struggling ultra-high frequency (UHF) stations.

Welfare funds: A nine-man House labor subcommittee was appointed to investigate union welfare funds. The House voted unanimously to give the group $75,000 to conduct the inquiry.

Liquor ads: Opponents of a bill to ban advertising of alcoholic beverages told a House committee it would create unemployment and bring a partial return to prohibition. The arguments were put forth by industry spokesmen and representatives of brewery work-

64 AFL Unions Sign Non-Raiding Pact

CHICAGO (AP)—Sixty-four of the American Federation of Labor's 111 unions have signed a new no-raiding pact within the organization, AFL President George Meany said Wednesday.

The AFL Executive Council completed drafting the no-raiding agreement, which will not become official until approved by the national convention at Los Angeles in September. The executive meeting ended Wednesday.

Meany said Dave Beck's powerful Teamsters' Union was among those which did not sign the pact.

Fight Fire Deep In Coal Mine

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Fire-fighting coal miners reported "slow progress" today combatting a blaze deep in the veins of the Snow Hill mine near West Terre Haute.

At noon, the flames still were burning briskly 1,000 feet beneath the surface of the earth, 12 hours after they broke out in several coal cars in an underground shaft.

Twenty-five miners fought the blaze with 2,000 feet of hose. State and federal mine inspectors were on the scene.

—and then let it die in the Senate. Mrs. Rogers and Radwan denied any political motivation. They said the bill was designed to restore pensions and compensation to the "real value" they had in 1940. They said the increases were calculated to offset inflation since that date.

British Submarine Surfaces as Rescue Efforts Organized

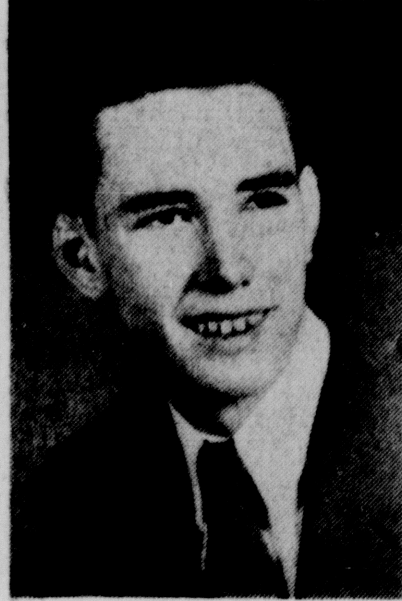

LONDON (AP) — The British submarine Scorch, which was feared lost in the English Channel, surfaced today as rescue efforts were being organized.

The submarine, which carries a normal complement of 44 men, lost contact while on a routine training mission.

The royal navy, fearing the vessel and its men were trapped beneath the sea, ordered immediate emergency rescue efforts. Navy divers had been rushed to the scene in the choppy waters near Weymouth Harbor.

Twenty minutes after the vast emergency rescue machinery of the navy had been set into motion, the Scorch pushed its nose above the surface, bringing cheers from the would-be rescuers.

Warn of Possible Cuts in State Welfare Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — State welfare institutions faced a warning today of possible reductions in appropriations for 1955-57.

Administrators of two state hospitals were told by Illinois Budgetary Commission Chairman Sen. Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph) Wednesday that he sees "no new state income" for them and "you might have to get along with less" in the next two years.

The superintendents of Manteno and Kankakee state hospitals told the commission they already are running in the red on commodities. Both said employee pay hikes may result in personal services cuts.

During the budgetary meeting, the Welfare Department's recent investigation of thefts at Kankakee state hospital was criticized sharply by Sen. Victor McBroom (R-Kankakee).

State Welfare Director Otto L. Bettag, discussing commodity funds, said the department had provided 1,250,000 more portions of meat at no extra cost as a result of the investigation and firings of several employees.

McBroom, however, said the investigation had harmed morale. He said employees were "scared to death by a bunch of people coming in acting like the Gestapo."

Bettag commented "We have no FBI in the Welfare Department," to which McBroom retorted, "You just think you don't."

Bettag said welfare institutions will need money to reduce understaffing and to compete with other states for employees. If there should be a budget cut, however, he said, "we'll just have to live with it."

Valedictorian, Co-Salutarians Named at U. of I.

CHAMPAIGN (AP) — Three students who were valedictorians in high school reigned today as top scholars of the 1954 class at the University of Illinois.

Carol H. Seibert, Brookfield, a major in the teaching of English with a straight "A" record, is valedictorian of the 1954 class.

Co-salutarians are Marlin D. Kleckner, Pearl City, and Carol L. Stewart, St. Louis.

Miss Seibert was valedictorian at Riverside - Brookfield High School, Miss Stewart at Southwest High School of St. Louis, and Kleckner at Pearl City Community High School, all in 1950.

Miss Seibert was vice president of the Illini Union student activities organization this year, and headed the campus spring carnival and homecoming queen contest last year. She just finished seven weeks of practice teaching in Decatur High School.

Miss Stewart, a mathematics major, works as supervisor of the mechanical engineering building computation room. After graduation, she plans to announce her engagement to Don E. Sweet, East Moline, who is now at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Kleckner studied two years at the University of Wisconsin before enrolling in veterinary medicine here. He is working part of his way as a laboratory assistant.

Recommend 2,000 Jobs Be Taken from State Civil Service

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — An Illinois Civil Service Commission report released today recommended that 2,000 state jobs be taken off civil service rolls.

The report was requested by the State Personnel Administration Commission, meeting here today, with the aim of resolving "conflicting jurisdictions and general confusion" in the state's personnel handling.

The Civil Service Commission's main recommendations were for the creation of a code department of personnel; the establishment of criteria for "career" civil service jobs; and appointment of a "quasi-judicial" board by the governor to conduct hearings and enforce regulations.

The report said that without a study "of each individual position" it appeared the "recommended changes" would place about 19,000 workers under civil service. This compares to 21,000 under civil service now, the report said.

The report said this would mean 8,000 jobs would be exempt from civil service procurement rolls compared to 6,000 now.

The overlying code department of personnel recommended in the report would be headed by a director of Cabinet stature.

KNOW YOUR FORMER NEIGHBORS:

Joseph H. Hinshaw Has Risen to Great Heights in Legal Profession

(The following is the first article of a series about former residents of this area who have left here and made names for themselves in their fields of endeavor. Articles on other persons will appear from time to time in The Daily Register.)

Sixty-four years ago this coming Sept. 19, a son was welcomed into the home of William Riley and Fanny Neely Hinshaw. It was a simple log farm home, located one and one-half miles from Stonefort, in Williamson county, having been constructed by Mr. Hinshaw with the aid of his neighbors.

The son was named Joseph Howard Hinshaw. And from that humble but truly American beginning, Joseph Howard Hinshaw has risen to great heights in the legal world, gaining recognition in his home state and throughout the country. A past president of the Illinois State Bar association and author of numerous articles on legal subjects, he is presently senior member of the Chicago law firm of Hinshaw, Culbertson, Moelmann & Hoban.

With offices at One North LaSalle street, the firm now consists of 14 lawyers, 11 secretaries and a docket clerk. It occupies the 42nd floor and part of the 43rd. Although he is a very busy man, Joseph Hinshaw admits he still enjoys practicing law. On occasions, he finds time to do some lecture work in some of the law schools or to write an article for a legal publication.

One of the books on "Who's Who" has this to say of Mr. Hinshaw:

"Joseph H. Hinshaw, Chicago, was born Sept. 19, 1890, in Williamson county, Illinois. He attended grade school and high school at Harrisburg, Saline county. He received his A. B. degree in 1913; LL. B. degree in 1916; admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1916. He received the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws in 1953, which was conferred upon him by John Marshall Law school of Chicago. Served as 1st Lt., Infantry, in the U. S. Army during World War I. Senior partner in the law firm, Hinshaw, Culbertson, Moelmann & Hoban, Chicago. He served for two years as president of the Alumni Association of the University of Illinois College of Law. Actively engaged in the trial of civil cases; author of "Hinshaw's Trial Briefs, Accidents, Illinois," now in its second edition, and numerous articles on legal subjects. An active member of the Chicago, Illinois State (President 1951-52) and American Bar Associations; member of House of Delegates of American Bar. He is a member of the International Association of Insurance Counsel, the Chicago Law Institute, Order of the Coif, a past president of the Society of Trial Lawyers, and a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers. He is a member of Delta Phi fraternity, Executives' Club of Chicago, University Club of Chicago, Westmoreland country club, and the Chicago Farmers."

Of his boyhood days in this county, Hinshaw recalls that just prior to his 7th birthday, his father sold the farm near Stonefort and bought a store on the west side of the Square in Harrisburg. The family lived at 411 North Granger street, and his sister, Clara C. Cook, now of Chicago, still owns the old home place.

The lawyer vividly remembers an occasion one summer when he was about 8 or 10 years old. Having heard that there was an automobile on the Square, he ran all the way, barefooted, from North Granger street to a spot about where the First National bank now stands, to see his first automobile. He recalls the car had a dashboard, no top, was open in the back, was cranked on the side and was painted red. He walked all around the marvel of the age and watched the notables from out of town, dressed in old-fashioned long duster coats, climb into the car and whirl away in a cloud of dust. With others, he ran after it as long as his breath would last.

The lad who was to become the brilliant lawyer, completed the elementary schooling in Harrisburg and was graduated in 1909 from the Harrisburg Township high school. He was class president and had a perfect attendance record over the four years. During his latter high school days, he worked in the coal mines on Saturdays and during the summer time under a sort of special dispensation from the mine owner.

As a child he attended Sunday School in the First Baptist church, of which both his parents were members. He also recalls spending several summers, as a youth, on the fruit farm of his uncle, George Neely, near the small town of Absher, in Williamson county.

In the fall of 1909, Hinshaw entered the University of Illinois on borrowed funds. With these, he registered for a six-year law course. At school and during the summers he took any job available to earn money for his education. He remembers working on the walls of the penitentiary at Joliet, guarding prisoners, during one summer. In 1913, he was graduated from the U. of I. with a B. A. degree.

At that time he was too deeply in debt to continue his education, so he procured a position as deputy clerk of the District Court of the U. S., for Eastern Illinois. After a year, he resigned this job and returned to the U. of I. for his law degree, receiving this in 1916. He then returned to Harrisburg, taking a job with a coal company.

Shortly thereafter he was called to defend a boy whose mother had furnished him with work while at the university. While working on this first case in Chicago, he obtained a position with an insurance company at $60.00 per month.

After the United States became active in World War I, he enlisted from Harrisburg and was sent, along with several others from the community, to Camp Taylor, Ky. Later, he was sent to Officers' Training school and before his discharge had advanced to the rank of 1st lieutenant. He recalls the honor of commanding a parade of World War I veterans around the Harrisburg square and to the high school, where services were held for them.

Returning to his old job in Chicago, he worked at it long enough to save $300. Then he quit to open an office of his own in the Loop. Before taking this step, he asked the counsel of several friends. All, save his uncle, Rufus Neely, a seasoned trial lawyer from Marion, Ill., bid him not to attempt it. The early days were indeed, difficult, he relates.

In 1925 Hinshaw married Madeline E. Heise, of Chicago. They have one child, a daughter, Joan, and lives at 1936 Chestnut Avenue, Wilmette, Ill. The family also owns a farm of 350 acres near Elgin in the middle of Kane county.

Hinshaw relates he simply could not get the desire for farm life out of his bones. The family spends almost every week end there. They have a sizeable dairy herd of Holstein cattle, about 250 hogs and some sheep.

His sister, Sylvia Hinshaw, an expert teacher of young children, followed him to Chicago some thirty years ago and has taught in

Pvt. Henry Theodore Maddox of Harrisburg recently completed an eight-week Field Wireman's course conducted by the 81st Airborne AAA Automatic Weapons Battalion, Specialist Training Regiment, Fort Jackson, S. C.

Cheap Education

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. — A committee working on teachers' salaries recently lived up their report to the PTA with this quote from East Hartford school records of 1839.

"Miss Stanley should be obtained to teach school if she can be obtained for $3 a week. If not at that price—offer her 50 cents more per week."

Evanston ever since. Later, his sister, Mrs. Cook, moved to Chicago, and she and her husband live on the south side of the city.

Woodworking is a hobby of the lawyer, and in the basement of his home he has a shop with almost every kind of hand and power woodworking tool. He has constructed some of the walnut-faced book shelves in the Loop office.

Probably his best known works is the book, "Hinshaw's Trial Briefs," now in its second edition. This was compiled from notes of decisions he maintained as his trial work progressed.

Thus concludes the story of the Saline county boy who has become one of the state's top legal men of the 20th century.

Girdles for Men Selling Faster

NEW YORK — The two-way stretch has tightened up the men's world.

That's right, ladies. The men are wearing girdles, although most of them are reluctant to admit it.

Two large companies report the men's girdle business is growing like a middle-aged waistline. Charles Chapman, vice president and sales manager of Slayform in Chicago, says the demand is increasing in all types of occupations, from truck drivers to tycoons.

Douglas Dillard, New York sales manager for Vassar, said, "Men are just becoming more figure conscious. Why in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, the top stores stock men's girdles."

So far, the East and West coast lead in sales, he said.

"The men in the Midwest probably worry about their figures," Dillard said, "but they're a little more self-conscious."

Both companies have dreamed up he-mannish trade names for the garments on the grounds that "a girdle sounds like women's apparel."

Best customers are men 40 and up.

"Around 40," said Dillard, "a fellow begins to sag a little. A two-way stretch is ideal for camouflaging a bit of bay window."

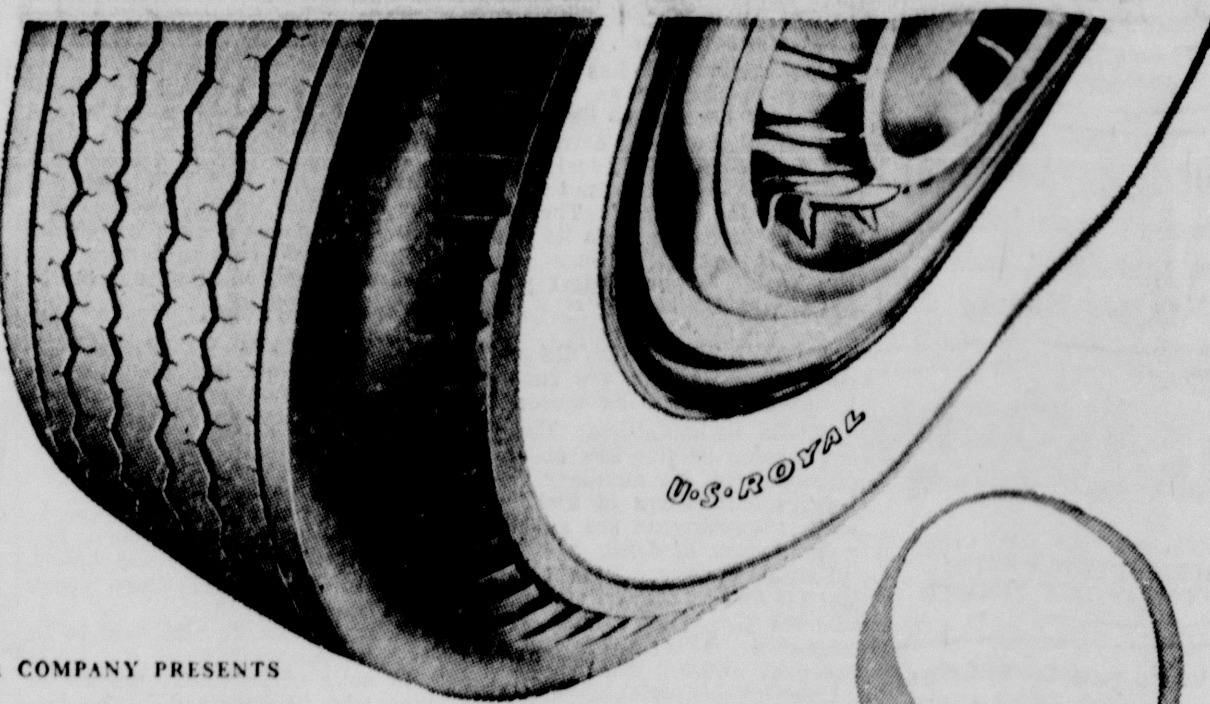

Never build bookshelves over radiators or near windows where books get strong sunlight. Heat and sun will warp and fade your books.

Report to Reveal Run-Down Condition of Foreign Service

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The disgraceful run-down condition of the U. S. foreign service will probably soon be spread on the record. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' Public Committee on Personnel makes its report about June 1.

This group of three present and four former ambassadors and assistant secretaries of State, headed by President Henry M. Wriston of Brown University, was supposed to report May 1.

But it has found such a deplorable situation that it has been giving an extra month to complete its recommendations.

The committee has become known unofficially as "The Whiffenpoofs" because — like the little lost sheep that went astray in the old Yale song — they feel that they will be "gone but not forgotten through the years." There have been so many leaks on its findings that it is now said to work in "The Big Inch" — the largest pipeline in the world.

AMONG THE RUMORS on the committee findings are such easily provable facts as these:

Woeful understaffing. The present foreign service has about 1300 officers with an auxiliary foreign service staff corps of 2,000. Minimum requirements are said to be a hard core of 6,000.

Fantastic costs. To appoint the last 335 foreign service officers cost $250,000 plus $100,000 for security clearance. This makes the average over $1,000 a man.

Unbelievable delays. The average applicant for a foreign service job must wait two years for his examination to be graded and his appointment confirmed. Security clearance alone takes from five to 18 months. Some applicants have had to wait four years before Congress approved their commissions.

REDUCTION IN FORCE. Instead of being enlarged, the foreign service is now smaller than it was three years ago. Fifty-six officers were dropped during the new Administration's great "RIF."
No new appointments have been made since August, 1952.

Bad morale. Promotions have been suspended. Benjamin Harrison was the last bearded president of the United States.

Doughnuts have holes in the center to keep them from becoming soggy.

"Operation Freedom" has been announced by the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts, by George Endicott, Dongola, chairman of the Camp Development committee.
This will be the 1954 counterpart of the 1953 "Operation Boy Scout Camp" which brought to southern Illinois the Freedoms Foundation award.

Saturday at 7 a. m. the Boy Scout camp will again be a beehive of activity as increased numbers of workers pitch in to complete various parts of the camping facilities at Little Grassy Lake.
Work projects are planned for May 22, 29 and June 5. The June date is to be the "polish-up" period in preparation for an open house on June 12 and 13.

Practically all types of skilled and unskilled workers can be used, Endicott said. Also needed are 50 dump trucks and drivers and educational delay. The Foreign Service Institute has been allowed to deteriorate to such an extent that it is nowhere near comparable to the Army, Navy and Air Force War Colleges. Heads of these advanced service schools are three-star admirals and generals. The head of the Institute is not even a foreign service officer.

Poor administration. The foreign service is said to have no well-established personnel policy.
Transfers are handled by seven men sitting around a table and swapping bodies.

Of the 1300 foreign service officers, 200 are in Washington and the other 1100 seldom see Washington. One extreme case was found of a man 43 years in service who had spent only 18 months in the U.
S.

THERE HAVE BEEN eight Assistant Secretaries of State in charge of administration during the past eight years. There are few China experts left in the Department of State. Only two men are studying Japanese language.

No American in Saigon speaks any of the native Indo-Chinese languages. There is only one American in Prague who can speak Czech.

Other things are also said to be wrong.

In spite of them, the quality of men who have stayed in the foreign service to represent America abroad has been found good. Secretary Dulles, who has visited 23
U. S. missions abroad, has praised the loyalty and competency of the personnel. Vice President Richard M. Nixon made the same report after his round-the-world trip last fall.

The solution to foreign service manpower shortages is now believed to lie in more lateral admissions of qualified technicians and experts. This instead of requiring everyone to rise through the ranks.

Over 2,000 made application for lateral entry in one recent year, proving there is plenty of talent available if it is recruited.

Only about 400 men have been transferred into the foreign service in the last 20 years. The examinations for young college graduates who want to begin at the bottom are the world's toughest.

Parakeet Expert Gives Inside Dope

CHICAGO — (AP) — Parakeets, although popular pets for about a century, have been known as talkers only in the past 25 years, according to a new booklet, "Meet the Parakeet," written by a Chicago newspaperman, John Justin Smith.

But once started at mimicking the human voice, the budgie has made rapid progress.

One bird owner, the book reports, taught his parakeet to approach strangers and say, "It's preposterous! Birds can't talk."

The book gives advice on feeding, caring for, and breeding the parakeets, which originally came from Australia.

Parakeets have been known to develop a taste for liquor. One California fancier is reported to boast that his pet can tell a good vermouth from a bad one.

But Smith warns that alcohol might do the budgie serious harm, adding:

"And anyhow, on one has yet figured out what to do about a parakeet with a hangover."

A diet of special parakeet seed mixture, supplemented with vitamins and green vegetables—except lettuce—is recommended.

Among the things a parakeet needs to live well, the author says, are parakeet gravel and a cuttle-bone in his cage. The bird enjoys bright-colored toys, especially of red and yellow.

In teaching the bird to talk, Smith reminded owners that the parakeet learns by instinct, and cannot reason.

Parakeets find the letters "P" and "B" easiest to mimic, especially at the beginning of words.
accounting for the popularity of the saying "Pretty Boy" among parakeets.

The male bird, of course, is the best talker, Smith points out. Repetition is important in teaching the bird to talk.

One fallacy in buying parakeets,
Smith says, is the idea that a male and female bird must be purchased so the birds won't be lonely. Buying a female to live with a pet male probably would result in their fighting, "almost as heatedly as people."

"Even if they don't fight, it is a poor bet that they'll mate successfully," the author adds.

First monument to the veterans of the Confederacy was erected at Montgomery, Ala., in April, 1868.

a few highlifts, road graders and bulldozers. All who wish to volunteer their services should phone or write the Boy Scout office at Herrin.

"A 'Freedom Token' will be given to all who participate in the project.

During the open house residents of southern Illinois will have an opportunity to see "Scouting in Action" at the new Scout camp.
Troops and Explorer units will man the campsites and program areas to demonstrate campcraft skills. Special presentations are being prepared.

Raincoats Blossom This Spring

Spring showers bring out a trio of raincoats that are pretty as any blossoms. One-button theater coat (left) in brilliant turquoise velvet also serves to keep off rain, has push-up sleeves. Leopard print in faille (center) is worn with matching cap, has wide turn-back cuffs. White corduroy (right) is cut with high back yoke, has adjustable cuffs. Front is cut with fairly straight panels so that coat has only medium panels. The two end coats have miltum linings for added protection and comfort. All three are all-state designs; all three can be worn on sunny days as well as when weather's dark and stormy.

Cupid Scores High In Army Circles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Who is the best marksman in the whole U. S. Army?

Some officers are beginning to suspect it's a fellow named PFC Dan Cupid. Eighty per cent of the Army's male commissioned and warrant officers are married.

About 96 per cent of the colonels, 97 per cent of the lieutenant colonels and 95 per cent of the majors are already in double - harness. That goes down the line to the warrant officers where 93 per cent are wedded.

It is a little different among the enlisted men. Only 32 per cent have gone to the altar.

"Cork Legs"

PTA To Hold Monthly Meeting Thursday

The monthly PTA meeting will be held Thursday, May 20, at 7 p. m. at the Carrier Mills grade school.

The program will include the following musical selections: Clarinet solo, "Home On the Range," by Diane Kachele from the second grade; trombone solo, "German Waltz," by Johnny O'Keefe from the third grade; marimba duet, "Skaters Waltz," by Linda Hill and Tony Kachele from the fifth and sixth grades; and an alto saxophone solo, "Old Man River" by Harold Prather. These students will be accompanied by their music director, Mrs. Rena Brackney.

Mrs. Bonnie Bolin Hostess To Sororial Club Meeting

The members of the Sororial club met Thursday evening, May 13, at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Bolin for the regular session.

The business discussion opened the meeting, followed by various games which were climaxed with traveling bingo. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Wilma Bryan, Mrs. Winnie Craig, Mrs. Marjory Whiting, Mrs. Pat Durfee, Mrs. Twila Pritchett, and Mrs. Judy Smith.

The hostess was also presented with a lovely gift.

Delicious refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches, olives, home-made cookies and Cokes were served to the following: Mrs. Judy Smith, Mrs. Wilma Bryan, Mrs. Marjory Whiting and Jeff, Mrs. Winnie Craig, Mrs. Nellie Vocum, Mrs. Bonnie Beegs and daughter, Mrs. Twila Pritchett, Mrs. Marcheta Clore and Marcia Jo, Mrs. Pat Durfee and the hostess, Mrs. Bonnie Bolin.

The next meeting will be on Friday, June 4, at the home of Mrs. Wilma Bryan.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sweat over the week end were all of their children and families: Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sweat and children, California; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sweat and children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harris and children and Jackie Sweat, all of Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Holland and boys, Carrier Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chenoweth and daughter, Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jenkins and daughter, Debrah, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Abney and girls, and Aunt Grace Pryor, all of Harrisburg. This was the first time in four years that the family has been together.

Grover and Anne Hutson were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening to receive a telephone call from Redondo Beach, Calif. Greetings were exchanged with Mrs. Ernest Hutson and daughter, Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson and twin sons. The Wilsons are former residents of Carrier Mills and were making the trip to California to meet their son Jack who is returning from Korea.

Students Working In Summer Need SS Numbers

If you plan to take a job this summer you'll need a social security account card, E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg social security office, reminded high school students today.

Your employer will ask to see your card when you start on the job because it is necessary for him to copy the name and social security account number into his records as shown on the card. He needs this information for the quarterly social security report he is required to make of your earnings.

If you already have a social security card, be sure to take it with you when you go on a job this summer. If you have lost your card, you should go to the social security office and get a duplicate card before starting on a job this year. If you have never had a card, you should get one from your social security office before you report for work in a job covered by the social security law.

Most jobs are covered by the social security law, Mr. Hill said. An exception is summertime work on a farm. As he explained, farm workers must meet a regularity of employment test; they must work at least five consecutive months for one farm operator in order to have their cash wages credited to their social security account. Domestic work—that is, work of any kind for a private household—counts toward old-age and survivors insurance if the employee works for the same employer on an average of at least two days a week.

There are no regularity requirements for jobs in commerce or industry, he said. If you work even for a short time for a business, you'll be asked for your social security card. Mr. Hill advises students who do not plan to take a vacation job this year to defer getting a card until they have a need for one.

An orphan car is one that is no longer manufactured.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. ### Three Boy Scout First Aid Classes Are Completed by Troop 23

Francis L. Jahn, scoutmaster, announced that three Boy Scout first aid classes had been completed in Troop 23. This is the first time in 10 years that the first aid merit badge has been earned in this troop.

The merit badge series was taught by Mrs. Geneva T. Altire, who has assisted in teaching first aid for the Scouts for the past three years. Assisting this year was Mrs. Kenneth Wiley who taught first class first aid, and Mrs. Wm. G. Durham who taught second class first aid. These courses were all taught according to the Boy Scout requirements for first aid.

James Arensman is institutional representative and Harold Hansen is assistant scoutmaster for this troop.

SEE ILLINOIS NOW—Visit your scenic and historic Illinois State Parks and Memorials. No. 1, Fort Armstrong is located on Rock Island in the Mississippi river adjacent to the cities of Rock Island and Moline. No. 2, Lowden Memorial, in Ogle county, features a 250 foot statue in memory of the Indians who once roamed the area. No. 3, at Buffalo Rock, in LaSalle county near Ottawa, the state maintains a herd of buffalo. No. 4, Giant City State Park, located in Jackson and Union counties, is situated in the Illinois Ozarks. No. 5, Siloam Springs, in Adams and Brown counties, occupies a colorful wooded area of more than 2,000 acres.

Illinois Ozarks Provide Scenic Views For Tourists; Giant City Park Popular

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Whether you call them mountains or hills the Illinois Ozarks in the southern end of the state afford many magnificent views of some of the state's most outstanding natural beauty.

The Illinois Ozarks are an extension of Arkansas and Missouri. They range between 15 and 40 miles in width and about 70 miles in length. Highways are routed over the Ozarks while in some instances railroads tunnel through them.

At this season of the year they are covered with flowering blossoms along the lower ridges while the higher peaks are covered with dense growths of pines. From a distance there is an ever present blue haze that adds to the beauty of these mountains.

Giant City Park Popular

Located in this Ozark range is Giant City State park which is among the most popular of Illinois' famed state park system. The park is located east of U. S. Highway 51 in Jackson and Union counties.

A visit to Giant City State park is suggested this week in connection with Governor William G. Stratten's program to encourage Illinois residents to see more of their home state.

Entitled "See Illinois Now" the program is sponsored jointly by the State Departments of Public Works and Buildings, Conservation, Public Safety and the Division of Reports in the Department of Finance.

In addition to Giant City State park other areas suggested for pleasure trips this week include Lowden Memorial State park near Oregon; Siloam Springs State park near Kellerville in Adams and Brown counties; Buffalo Rock State park near Ottawa in LaSalle county and Fort Armstrong in the Rock Island-Moline section.

LOWDEN MEMORIAL STATE PARK is in Ogle county on the east bank of the Rock River near Oregon, north of state route 6. A huge concrete statue towering 250 feet above Rock River on a high hilltop is one of many scenic attractions. The statue was created by Lorado Taft, famous sculptor, to typify the Indians who once roamed the area.

BUFFALO ROCK STATE PARK is located near Ottawa in LaSalle county. The park maintains a herd of buffalo and contains much scenic beauty. From across the Illinois river Buffalo Rock resembles a sleeping bison.

SILLOAM SPRINGS STATE PARK is in Adams and Brown counties near Kellerville, north of state route 10. It is one of the newer state parks and occupies a colorful wooded area of more than 2,000 acres mid-way between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers east of Quincy. Recreational and other facilities are in the process of development.

FORT ARMSTRONG is located on Rock Island in the Mississippi river adjacent to the cities of Rock Island and Moline. The island is the site of the federally operated Rock Island Arsenal. Fort Armstrong was established by pioneer settlers as a strategic point on the Mississippi river. A Block House similar to one built hundreds of years ago has been restored on the site. The Rock Island-Moline area also offers countless other attractions for motorists and visitors.

Sulphur Springs

The weather continues to be fine with the exception of rain for the farmers.

Church and Sunday school were well attended with visitors present who had not been to the old home place for several years. Mrs. Ruby VanAlstyne was glad to be with us again. Her home is now in Detroit, Mich.
